SITUATION IN THE FAR

By the Associated Press
Russia's armies before Moscow,
pressing a tempestuous counteroffensive, were reported today to have driven the Germans out of 20 villages in the past 24 hours in the Kalinin sector, while on the northern front, the Soviet radio said Red troops had scored a break through the Nazi siege ring outside Leningrad.

Tass, the Soviet news agency,
reported also that tank-led German shock troops had been thrown back from the outskirts of Tula, 100 miles south of Moscow, after a bloody two-weeks battle.

"The Germans were here yesterday. Today only their corpses are here," Tass said.

The news agency said the Germans hurled 15 consecutive tank
attacks at the little village of Rodezhynsk, on the southern outskirts of Tula, and gained a temporary foothold before being smashed
back with heavy casualties.

Amid these successes, the London admiralty acknowledged the loss of the 22,000-ton aircraft carrier, Ark Royal which the Germans have repeatedly claimed sunk.

As London newspapers hailed reversion of the United States neutrality act with headlines declaring "they're coming over!" authoritative quarters disclosed that the $16,000,000 Ark Royal was torpedoed by an Axis submarine late yesterday in the Mediterranean
east of Gibraltar.

In the Far East crisis, relations between Japan and Russia took a turn for the worse as Moscow replied to Tokyo's protest over the sinking of the Japanese liner, Kei-
to Maru—allegedly hit by a floating Soviet mine—and informed quarters said all major Japanese battleships were rejected.

Simultaneously, the Tokyo was office announced a drastic revision
of Japan's conscription regulations, making scores of thousands subject to military service.

Axis reaction to the revision of the U. S. neutrality act—lifting a two-year ban against American merchant ships entering combat ones—was high-lighted by an expressive warning from Berlin.

Authorized Nazi quarters declared the next few days would show

States had taken and asserted congress had been duped by a false presentation of facts by President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Cordell Hull.

Soviet dispatches reported series of smashing counter-blows
at Kalinin, 95 miles northwest of Moscow, at Maloyaroslavets, 65 miles southwest of the capital, and at the far north around the Arctic circle of Murmansk.

PRESIDENT SUGGESTS ARBITER

Chief Executive Asking CIO
and Steel Officials to Keep on Conferring on Captive Coal Mine Dispute Proposed That if
No Conclusion Is Reached the Point or Points be Referred to Judges

INSISTS PRODUCTION
MUST NOT BE HALTED

Washington, Nov. 14.—(P)—
President Roosevelt asked CIO and steel officials today to keep on conferring on the captive coal mine
dispute and let him have by Monday a report of an agreement or at least a report of progress.

The chief executive released a statement which declared "unequivocally that the cessation of production of coal would 'create a further danger to American defense' and that it was the 'indisputable obligation of the president to see that 'necessary coal production be continued and not stopped.'"

With no element of threat, the chief executive disclosed that he had told three representatives of the CIO and three of big steel firms
in a White House conference that if legislation became necessary to keep coal production going, congress would be asked to pass it.

Mr. Roosevelt made two suggestions to the conferees:
1. That they continue negotiations, and if no conclusion is reached, that the point or points
at issue be submitted to an arbitrator, with production continuing meanwhile.

2. That they consider "other methods relating to employment."
(Mr. Roosevelt did not amplify this point.)

The statement was in part a transcript of remarks Mr. Roosevelt had made at the White House conference earlier in the day. The steel and coal executives.

The White House conference
took place shortly after the policy committee of the CIO-United Mine Workers voted to continue the UMW's fight for a union shop in the captive mines, which supply
the nation's big steel mills.

The three labor officials—CIO
President Philip Murray, UMW
Secretary-treasurer Thomas Kennedy and John L. Lewis, United Mine Workers president—came out
first and Lewis remarked:

"Any statement will come from the White House."
Later on, White House officials
informed reporters that the coal

FOG HAMPERS RESCUE

BULLETIN
Los Angeles, Nov. 14.—
(P)—A violent earthquake,
the most severe in eight years, rocked the metropolitan area today, causing an estimated $1,000,000 damage
in one suburban community
alone. William H. Stanger, superintendent of the Torrance water department, put
the million dollar figure on that city's losses.

Los Angeles, Nov. 14.—(P)—A violent earthquake, the most severe in eight years, toppled bricks and cornices from buildings in suburban Los Angeles, sent guests fleeing from one damaged hotel, split a 55,000-gallon oil tank and damaged
gas and power lines today.

Guests fled the 30-room two-story Hotel Torrance in suburban Torrance as the temblor showered bricks into the street. Fire inspectors condemned the building and ordered the guests to find lodging elsewhere. They said a few other buildings would be condemned and ordered torn down.

The quake occurred at 12:42 a.
m. (3:42 a. m. EST) and lasted from a few seconds to 18 or 20
in Torrance, Gardena and Long Beach,
the hardest hit areas.

JAMES PLEDGES FULL SUPPORT

Harrisburg, Nov. 14.—(P)—The administration of Republican Governor Arthur H. James was pledged today to whatever course President Roosevelt may determine upon to
"break up the deadlock in defense
production caused by short-sighted
labor leaders."

"You lead, Mr. President, we're ready to follow," James declared in a telegram to the president last night.

Mr. Roosevelt met today with labor leaders concerning the threatened walkout in steel company
"captive" mines by the United Mine Workers of America (CIO).
Most of the "captive" mines are located in western Pennsylvania.

"Regardless of the outcome of your conference, the facilities of my administration are the moral support of the people of this state."

CHILDREN'S DIVISION TO BE A FEATURE OF CHRISTMAS PARADE

Two Attractive Prizes for Most Unique Costumes
Will be Awarded to Boys
and Girls Participating

MANY MUSICAL UNITS

With only two weeks remaining
before the gala community celebration and parade to open the Christmas season, members of the Citizens' Committee, who are sponsoring the big event, are rapidly completing all the details to make it a huge success.

At a well attended meeting of the committee last night plans were formulated for the children's division of the parade which should prove one of the most colorful of the entire procession. A general invitation is extended to all youngsters of borough and county schools to participate in the parade. Two attractive prizes for the most unique costumes will be awarded to both boys and girls. In addition to these prizes, every student participating will receive a prize. Judges for the prizes will be announced later. It is expected to have Santa Claus here that day to lead the parade.

This will be the third division
of the long procession and will form on Water street, it has been announced. A band will head this section and Boy Scouts, Girl Reserves and the girls' organization of the Y. W. and American Legion are being invited to augment this division. R. W. Reynolds will have charge of this section.

According to Kay Davis, who is in charge of the parade committee, at least seven divisions are expected for the big event. Present plans are to form on the East Side, near Irvine street, and march through and around the business district. The committee expects six or seven musical organizations
from the borough and nearby communities to enliven the line of march. Tentative plans are to have the well-known Rocky Grove band head the parade. Definite

REPEAL PLEASES LONDON PAPERS

London, Nov. 14.—(P)—Repeal of vital sections of the U. S. neutrality act was hailed by an authoritative British source today with
"much gratification" while the press and public greeted the congressional action with jubilation which the Daily Express put into its banner headline, "It's big enough for a major war victory. 'They're Con'ting Over!'"

This referred specifically to reopening of British exports to American merchant ships. How soon and how fast American vessels headed south to the Atlantic
because a subject of speculation.
The Express suggested that the first ships would arrive from Ireland, which formerly was the last supplies for England, while other

IS VICTIM OF ATTACK BY U-BOAT

Three-Year-Old, $16,000-
000 Floating Airfield Torpedoed Late Thursday East of Gibraltar,
Probably by Italian Submarine, Carries Down Undisclosed Number of Crew of 1,600 Men

GOES TO BOTTOM WHILE BEING TOWED TO PORT

London, Nov. 14.—(P)—The three-year-old, $16,000,000 aircraft
carrier, Ark Royal was torpedoed
late yesterday east of Gibraltar,
probably by an Italian submarine,
and sank early today despite a desperate effort to bring the listing giant safely to port.

She carried down with her an undisclosed number of her crew of about 1,600 men who remained aboard in the struggle to save the ship.

A very large number of the ship's company was taken off,
the admiralty said, and indications were that personnel losses were
"fortunately not heavy."

The story of the sinking, pieced
together from the admiralty's brief
announcement and word in authoritative quarters was that the Ark Royal was not in action when she was torpedoed and that she was enroute to Gibraltar.

The strong suggestion was that an Italian submarine was the victor, although there was no positive identification.

Many of the company remained aboard after the hit or hits and helped to keep the Ark Royal afloat, in tow, during the hours of darkness as she listed further and further. Many worked to the very end. She finally rolled under the sea, short of Gibraltar and safely.

The loss was belated fulfillment of many a German claim, since the beginning of the war, that the carrier had been sunk.

The concise communique said
that the 22,000-ton floating airfield sank somewhere on some undisclosed day in tow after having been torpedoed.

She was the third aircraft carrier lost by Britain in the war
and the newest of them at the time.
The admiralty communique identified the submarine only as a "U-boat" which while originally a German designation might apply also to an Italian submarine.

The vessel was under the command of Captain L. E. Maund, and whether the commander was among the "fortunate" or not heavy casualties was not made public. The carrier's normal com-

Boston, Nov. 14.—(P)—Fifteen survivors of the torpedoed freighter Bold Venture, arriving at Boston today, reported that 13 vessels in their convoy of 53 ships were sunk in the north Atlantic
on the same night—October 16
and that two others had been lost a day or two previously.

October 16 also was the night
that the American destroyer Kearny was torpedoed.

The rescued crew members of the Bold Venture, which formerly was the Danish steamship Aislund but had been placed under Panama registry, held little hope that their 18 missing shipmates
were alive. None of the missing were Americans, the survivors
said, although some gave addresses in the United States.

Those lost, according to the rescued seamen, all were in the after section of the bold venture
which literally was blown away
by a torpedo when the ship was attacked 500 miles from Ireland.

The survivors were warm in their praise of Lieut. Commander
George Windover of the Canadian Corvette Wetaskiwin when picked them up about an hour after the Bold Venture sank.

While the Corvette was engaged in rescue work, they added, one torpedo passed 20 feet from her stem.

Merchantmen Authorized by Congress to Mount Guns and Shoot if They Are Attacked

Washington, Nov. 14.—(P)—American merchantmen regained complete freedom of the seas today by act of congress, and with it the right to mount guns and shoot if attacked.

The house finished the legislative job in a suspense-packed, historic session yesterday by scrapping the neutrality act amendments which since 1939 have prohibited American shipping from entering the combat zones of belligerent harbors.

The vote was 212 to 194—no tremendous majority, but a very sweet victory to administration leaders, who had been haunted by visions of a photo finish, where two or three votes could mean defeat.

The final roll call climaxed the hardest battle yet waged to uphold President Roosevelt's hand in a matter affecting foreign policy. And it came after the tense house heard a dramatic, last-minute appeal from the president.

By its vote the house joined the senate in broadening the original house ship-arming bill to end all neutrality act restrictions on the movement of vessels flying the Stars and Stripes.

Just as soon as the legislation
was approved Speaker Rayburn quickly affixed his signature, and
the strokes of his pen began the official scrapping of the neutrality
act bans from the statute books.

There remained the formality of adding the signature of Vice President Wallace before the measure
could go to the White House for the final name. Franklin D. Roosevelt, however, an objection by Senator McNary (R-Ore), the minority leader, made it necessary
for Wallace to wait until the senate
reconvenes Monday before signing.

Nevertheless, there was abundant evidence that the technicality of the brief, three-day delay would not prevent the administration from putting the legislation into speedy effect.

On the contrary, reports were current that the preliminary work
for the arming of cargo vessels
may already be under way. The navy department said merely that plans were ready to proceed at once.

Secretary Knox declared the vote
meant that both "ships and the men will be available to deliver defense aid and materials" in such quantity and at such places as to aid materially those who oppose
"Hitler and his attempted domination of the world."

A few minutes after the final vote, Rep. Smith (D-Va.) and Starnes (D-Ala.), among others,
demanded that Rayburn and Mc-Cormack fix an exact date when legislation to cope with defense
strikes might be considered. Mc-Cormack urged his questioners to "wait until Monday; there may be something I can say."

The administration forces slowly pulled away to a lead which 25 minutes later became 18 votes—a comparatively small majority of the 435 members but a substantial margin to those administration leaders who at 10 a. m. yesterday privately admitted fear of defeat by 65 votes.

Washington, Nov. 14.—(P)—
The 14 Republican representatives from Pennsylvania voted solidly
against sending merchant ships
into war zones yesterday when
the house passed the measure.

New Regulations Are Announced to Curb Speeders in State

Pennsylvania motorists learned today that the era of leniency in past years for caught speeding at seventy miles an hour or more.

Col. Lynn Adams, commissioner of state police, and Secretary of Revenue Walter J. Kress are quoted in an Associated Press dispatch as announcing that henceforth no restricted operators' licenses will be allowed those who exceed that limit.

Licenses of speeders—the legal limit is 50 miles an hour—are subject to suspension for 90 days. But to relieve hardship on those who need to drive motor vehicles for livelihood, the state has issued a "restricted" license during the suspension to permit operation of business vehicles.

But that day is past for 70-mile-an-hour drivers, officials said. They also announced a new set of restrictions for those who can show a good driving record and necessity of car operation.

50-60 miles an hour—restricted license issued for the 90-day suspension.

60-65 miles an hour—30-day suspension and 60-day restriction.

65-70 miles an hour—45 days suspension, 45 days restriction.

Necessity to operate must be shown in a personal hearing before a state inspector.

In addition, the restricted licenses will plainly show the specified purpose for which the car may be operated.

Learning The Ways Of Democracy Theme Of Education Week

Much has been said on the themes of national defense and the democratic way of life, and many will find something of interest in the following on "Learning the Ways of Democracy," taken from the Journal of the National Education Association in observance of American Education Week.

Democracy exalts the individual as a part of the great brotherhood. In a democracy, responsibilities go with rights. This is true of the home, the community, or the nation; of labor, industry, and government.

The ideal of universal education is a part of our national heritage. The schoolhouse, like the flag, is a symbol of the democratic way of life. The American school system is teaching 30,000,000 young people the fundamentals of democracy—how to study, to acquire facts, to think for themselves, to decide issues by peaceful means and majority rule, to give and take, to be tolerant of other people's ideas and customs, to appreciate basic human values, to assume responsibility for themselves and for others. Schools are the training ground of democratic citizenship.

Mental Feats of Dr. Polgar Are Enjoyed by Many at High School

Appearing before a large crowd at the high school auditorium last night, Dr. Franz J. Polgar, noted mentalist, amazed his audience with feats of mental telepathy, memory feats and a demonstration of hypnotism in a benefit for the Times-Mirror Alias Santa Claus Fund.

Devoting more of his time to entertaining his audience than to explaining the technicalities of the subjects in which he specializes, Dr. Polgar had those present alternately gasping and howling with laughter.

The return engagement of the famous mental wizard proved even more entertaining than the first appearance a year ago.

Immediately after his introduction, Dr. Polgar plunged into his program by demonstrating in a forceful manner his power of telepathy. He did this first by locating a person in the audience selected by a committee of spectators, using only mental directions. Finding of a hidden object by mental directions also was accomplished.

Polgar's remarkable memory feats were demonstrated by three experiments which astounded those present. Quick memorizing of a long list of words, construction of a magic mathematical square and memorizing of material on the pages of a current magazine were equally easy for him.

Highlighting the entire performance, however, was the demonstration of hypnotism, in which the subjects were caused to experience various sensations and perform numerous unusual acts at Polgar's direction while under the hypnotic influence.

It can be truly said that the entire show was one greatly enjoyed by everyone present and those who had seen Dr. Polgar's work a year ago were fully as much amazed and entertained last night as they were on the occasion of his previous visit.

As a result of the show, a good amount was added to the Alias Santa Claus Fund for the aid of needy persons at Christmas time. A fair-sized audience of students attended a matinee performance at 4:15 p. m. yesterday, when Dr. Polgar presented his mental telepathy and memory feats. However, because of the age of most of those present, the hypnotism was omitted from the afternoon program.

JUNIOR PLAY TO BE PRESENTED NOVEMBER 21ST

This three act comedy of youth by David Duncan has been chosen as this year's junior play. In this presentation, Mr. Duncan brings out the problems, thoughts and reactions of today's young people. His story is woven around an ambitious lad of nineteen who has his own ideas about success in the business world which prove to be well based.

The junior boy chosen to portray Little Jimmie Jones, is Harold Knappenberger, who is a recent arrival to Warren from Cattaraugus, N. Y. This will be Harold's first appearance before a Warren audience and will doubtless win for him much recognition because of his naturalness in portraying Jimmie Jones. With the exception of one this will also be the initial appearance of the entire cast.

Tickets are now on sale by various members of the dramatic club and the participants in the play. Reservations are to be made Tuesday noon, in the high school. This play will be presented Friday, November 21 at 8:15 p. m.

Warren County Highway Office Is Preparing for Forthcoming Snows

With the arrival of cold weather, the Warren county force of the Pennsylvania Department of Highways is making preparations to keep the roads of the county open during the periods when heavy snow may fall, it was stated today by G. H. Seigworth, county superintendent.

Snow fence is being erected and equipment conditioned for the clearing of snow from the highways.

Seigworth said today that approximately 182,000 feet of snow fence—nearly 35 miles—is being erected in the county to prevent drifts from blocking the roads. Work on the placing of the snow fence was started November 1.

Of the 513 miles of roads on the state-maintained program in the county, 250 are on the snow removal program of the department, Seigworth revealed. However, in addition to the roads which are plowed regularly, the department does additional work in opening other roads in case of unusual conditions.

Four new trucks have been received here for use in plowing snow from the roads and Seigworth said he expects to receive some additional equipment.

Altogether, the county highway office has 15 department trucks, four outside trucks, five graders and two tractors for use in the snow removal program.

To cope with particularly dangerous conditions, chinders have been stacked at strategic points on the main highways of the county.

In the state highway department is erecting 13,324,000 feet of snow fence, it was revealed today.

Secretary I. Lamont Hughes has allotted $4,650,000 for snow removal throughout Pennsylvania.

PLAY WILL BE PRESENTED AT PRESBYTERIAN

"The Presbyterian Women's Federation," a sketch in one act will be produced by the men of the First Presbyterian church next Monday and Tuesday evenings as a special feature of the entertainment program to follow fellowship dinners for members and their families of the First Presbyterian church.

The cast will include Andrew Black, John Swick, A. F. Dunham, William Seng, David Beatty, John Stewart, Preston Hoskin, Robert Crosssett, Torsten Milenius, R. W. Whitehill, David Crosssett, W. E. Lutz, Thomas Perks, Dr. F. S. Richards and Everett Eddy.

Designated as "alphabet dinners," these events have been planned to foster fellowship among members and friends of the congregation and through the program to insure every person regarding the future plans of the church.

At six o'clock Monday evening, those whose names came alphabetically from A to K have been invited; on Tuesday, those from L through to Z, although any person will be welcome either evening.

Mrs. C. Vance Weld is chairman of the dinner committee and all reservations must be made through the church office by Saturday.

Church officers and officers of church organizations, with wives and husbands, will act as hosts and hostesses, according to the alphabetical division.

LEAVES "IRON LUNG"

After a two-year battle against infantile paralysis, Mrs. Elizabeth Wood, of Corry, 32-year-old mother of three children, has been permitted to leave her "iron lung" at an Erie hospital and return to her home and family. She now gets along with a battery-driven chest respirator, invented and donated to her by Dennis R. Scanlan, of New York, medical equipment manufacturer who has been experimenting with the midget-size "lung."

TO NAME VIEWERS

Viewers to appraise the value of land in Corry condemned by the government for a defense housing project will be appointed "within two weeks," Stanley Granger, special attorney with the department of justice, has announced. Granger said the viewers had not been appointed yet "for two or three reasons of our own" which he did not disclose. The 19.6 acres of land, known as the fair grounds, was condemned by the government last June 6. The government estimated the value of the land at $5,801.

EVERYONE INVITED

The world fellowship committee of the Y. W. C. A., with Mrs. H. C. Warren as chairman, extends a cordial invitation to all interested

CELEBRATION PLANS PROGRESSING

Two weeks from tomorrow Warren will have a parade and celebration which will inaugurate the Christmas shopping season in this community, and according to plans as outlined by the committee in charge at a meeting held last evening a delightful time is being arranged, with a program that will amuse and entertain both children and adults.

The success of this event will doubtless depend upon the manner in which the community joins with the committee in helping to put it over. It therefore behooves all residents as well as merchants and other business men to give whole-hearted co-operation.

Many novel surprises are being secured in an effort to make the parade one of the most imposing that ever traversed the streets of Warren. In addition the committee is hoping that there will be a large number of floats.

ALICE THROUGH THE CELLOPHANE

Now the use of cellophane is going to be cut down because the chemicals of which it is made are required in the defense program.

There may be cases in which this restriction will work genuine hardship, but there are other cases in which it will be a blessing in disguise. We've seen packages, both the mechanically wrapped trade kind and the home-wrapped gift variety, in which cellophane was used not to protect the goods merely, not even purely for decorative effect, but obviously in a malign and sinister plot to baffle the recipient. We've seen strong men, after minutes of futile clawing and pawing at such a package, tear out their hair by the handfuls and then just sit down and howl like a banshee. Those who have made a sensible use of that highly useful material, cellophane, may be put out by the new restrictions, but in some cases a little restriction is going to be just a plain relief.

The Lions Club annual collection day for the Warren Relief, which is scheduled for the forenoon of Saturday, November 22, will be an important event this year since the association reports that there is urgent need for shoes, rubbers, children's clothes, women's coats, pieces of material for making quilts, bedding, as well as food-stuffs for the packing of Thanksgiving baskets. In the meantime housewives can be saving up for this most important donation day.

Our sincere appreciation is extended to all persons who in any way aided in making the Times-Mirror Alias Santa Claus benefit endeavor the success that it was. From the praiseworthy comments heard today we are inclined to believe that the second performance of Dr. Polgar in Warren was even more enjoyed than the first.

Many in Warren learned with genuine regret of the passing at his home in Philadelphia October 28, of Rev. William E. Staub, pastor of the First Baptist church over twenty years ago. Rev. Staub, older citizens will recall, was quite active in the various projects conducted in connection with defense projects during the World War.

Just want to remind those Russell High School seniors and their teachers, who inspected the Times-Mirror office the past two afternoons, that they did not enjoy their visits any more than we enjoyed having them. It is always a pleasure to conduct school groups through our up-to-date plant.

According to reports, the 28th Division has been making a good reputation for energetic participation and able tactics in the southern maneuvers.

Now is the time to do the Yuletide shopping—if you wish to do it in comfort.

Everybody loves a fat man—dressed like Santa Claus!

This November brand of weather isn't bad at all!

EDSON'S WASHINGTON COLUMN

BY PETER EDSON
Times-Mirror Washington Correspondent

Washington, Nov. 14—How to have a propaganda industry that will out-gobble Goebbels without having a propaganda ministry and without having a Goebbels is the paradoxical job that has now been shaken down for Col. William J. Donovan, whose office as Co-ordinator of Information is known in Washington as COI.

The nickname should be COY, for of all the defense agencies in Washington, COI alone is publicity shy. It has no public relations officer to give statements to the press, other than Donovan himself, who is harder to see than Greta Garbo of the screen, and who wants to be alone just about as bad. Donovan has just moved his headquarters into the old Naval Hospital buildings, a couple of blocks from the Potomac river, way out by the Lincoln Memorial. It's a good hideout. His research staff under Dr. James H. Baxter III, president of Stacey College, and Dr. Ernest Stacey, chief of the famed Congressional Legislative Reference Service, will be quartered way at the other end of Washington in the Library of Congress, where "Silence" is the motto, and a man can be let alone.

All this hush-hush embarrasses Donovan and his staff of unknown size, made up of the dandiest array of college professors, poets, playwrights, foreign correspondents, newspapermen, broadcasters and their ilk. All of them are conscious of the fact that this is a democracy and that the people are entitled to know what goes on. Most of them, before they got in to the government, devoted their private lives to trying to tell the people what was going on. They are still doing so with publishable material—propaganda in a sense—but they don't want anybody to know that it's propaganda they're dishing out, and that's why all the mystery and secrecy.

As a matter of fact, their outfit isn't exactly propaganda. That word has been pretty badly abused and has become synonymous with baloney. Donovan wants it understood that he is not dealing in baloney. The only way to beat a barrage of verbal baloney is with a crossfire of truth, laid down before the enemy can start its barrage to rolling. And there "Wild Bill" Donovan of the "Fighting 69th" believes is where the COI job comes in—to lay down a counter-propaganda of truth and facts that will make the German baloney type of propaganda look as silly as it is.

Outside pressure on Washington to open a full-fledged Ministry of Propaganda has been tremendous. Donovan feels that such procedure would not be the way the American democracy should proceed. For this reason, COI has been organized as a kind of brain trust operation planning the counter-propaganda, but letting established agencies of the government, private-owned radio stations and the privately-owned press be the issuing media. The affirmative end of COI functions through its Foreign Information Service, headed by playwright Robert Sherwood in New York, and Nelson Foynter in Washington.

They get up early at the COI offices. There are staff meetings at 8 in the morning. There are shifts working around the clock, seven days a week. The news is analyzed. How can this development be counteracted? What is the answer to that? Where can the Nazi propaganda machine be outwitted, beaten to the punch? In what ways is the axis most vulnerable to counter-propaganda? COI thus plans its battles of words.

In spite of all the secrecy sur-

Old World Meets New in Morocco

FRENCH MOROCCO, larger in area than France and with a population twice that of New York City, is a land of contrasts.

Here the old world blends or conflicts with the new, here an armored car stands next to the complacent camel in the market place, here the tongues of Frenchmen, Spaniards, Berbers, Arabs, and Jews make a confusing babel.

Such a place is Sefru, an inland town depicted on the stamp above, issued in 1939.

The world's current politics and intrigue have been felt in the French colony where the Tricolor of France flies next to the flag of the Mohammedan Sultan. Governing the colony and tribesmen are the men and army (the French Foreign Legion, composed largely of Germans) loyal to Vichy. 5. What is the difference between a misdemeanor and a felony?

Letters to the Editor

Pittsfield
November 12, 1941

To the Editor:
Why is it that they do not set a fixed date for Thanksgiving? They have been changing it around so much that we never know when Thanksgiving is going to be. We can't visit relatives and friends in other states because their Thanksgiving might be a different date. This year Thanksgiving Day is not even on the caly set back to its original date, on the last Thursday in November? We would then know when we were to celebrate it.
Very truly yours,
H. S.

Each year a summer vacation cruise of 25 days is arranged without cost for members of the Naval ROTC units.

Souvenirs for Lady and Gentleman Guests

MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Excerpts from a Broadway reporter's notebook. There is a men's store in West 49th street that has an unusually fine length of window display—perhaps half a dozen windows in an unbroken line. To convey the idea of fall and the changing season, the proprietor has decorated his windows with some interesting water-colors of wild life. With each painting is a twisted, ribbon-like scroll giving the name of the subject.

When you see this the first time you know that the proprietor is a city man, that he was city bred, that he doesn't know a snipe from a goose. You know instinctively that he never learned what it meant to prowl a thicket for woodcock or crouch in a rice field, looking for mallards. I say this because the names of the birds are all sadly misplaced. With the noblest of intentions, he has called a snipe a "woodcock," a pheasant a "bob white," and a black duck a "mallard." You drift through 49th street, sniffing the autumn tang, and when you see this you give it a sort of left-handed admiration, for the display is absurd, and a little pathetic, and slightly wonderful too.

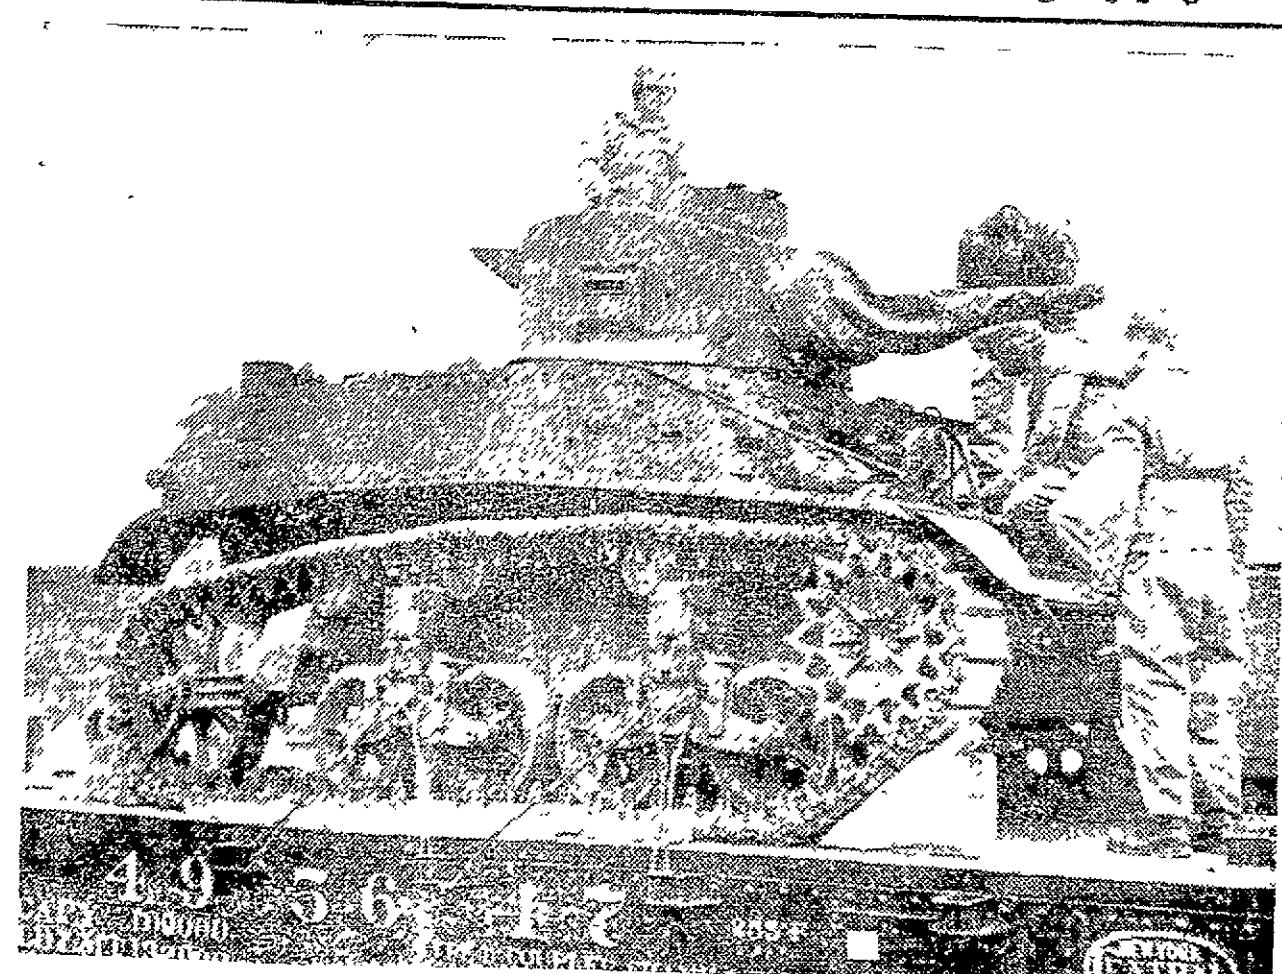

Those realistic sparks from the "incendiary" bombs which drop through the window in that theater where "The Wokey" is playing sometimes frighten the audience when they gaze the first few rows of seats. But they are quite harmless. The sparks come from a special chemical that isn't incendiary. It had to be okayed by the Fire Commissioner before it could be used. The fire business, even in make-believe, is a realistic and serious matter in crowded theaters.

It will be two years before you see it, but the Royal Order of Rosia has named a rose after Kay Kyser. It's a pure white rose. When a new rose is named, it has to be kept under observation for two years—to see that it turns out satisfactorily—before it can be placed on the market.

George Ross, the columnist, points out an interesting little fact about those Universal pictures which show British factories turning out tanks for Soviet Russia. The musical background, he says, is easily identified as the old Imperial Czarist anthem. On her opening night in "Candle in the Wind," Helen Hayes received this telegram from Mayor LaGuardia: "Warmest congratulations on opening night to a great actress and a distinguished liberal."

STEALING THE SHOW!

This speedy light tank from the 4th Armored Division, Pine Camp, N. Y., is pictured here as it was being unloaded for Pittsburg's Automobile Show and Defense Exposition. The tank, a day late in arriving, has been seen by the show from the dozens of other defense exhibits at the exposition which will be open from 1 P. M. to 11 P. M. through Saturday at Hunt Armory.

Splendid Talk For November Session of D. A. R. Membership

Members of General Joseph Warren Chapter, National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, report that they had the privilege of hearing an unusually fine address at their November meeting, held Thursday afternoon at the Y. W. C. A. activities building.

The speaker was J. R. Allen, patriotic instructor for the Pennsylvania Veterans of Foreign Wars and has remarks on "Freedom in Democracy" left a lasting impression on every member and guest.

Another feature of the meeting was the enthusiastic report by Mrs. W. G. Cable of the 45th annual state conference of the organization, held this month in Pittsburgh. She emphasized our very interesting fact brought out at the sessions. That there are but two "Real Democrats" still living, Mrs. Caroline Randall, of Springfield, Vt., and Mrs. Ann Knight Gregory, of Wampscott, N.H. Appropriate to the season, Mrs. E. H. Trushel sang "We Thank Thee, Lord, for Doctors."

The tea table for the social hour which followed was decorated in a victory motif and presided over by Mrs. H. S. Crawford and Miss Harriet B. Eaton. November hostesses were Mrs. Robert Mead, Mrs. T. H. Russell, Mrs. Thomas Davison, Mrs. William Scott and Mrs. Henry Shippey.

The December meeting will be in the form of a Christmas program and party.

FUNERAL RITES FOR CLARENDON MINISTER HELD

A large representation of the ministers of the Jamestown District and Erie Conference of the Methodist church gathered in Clarendon on Thursday morning for funeral services in memory of Rev. Emerson Jones, pastor of the Clarendon Methodist church. The many present included, also, a great number from churches which he had served throughout this section.

Dr. John A. Galbraith, of Jamestown, N. Y., superintendent of the Jamestown District, was in charge of the rites, with Rev. C. C. Ross, of Mt. Jewett, reading the Scripture and Rev. H. Ray Harris, United Brethren minister and relative of the deceased, offering the prayer. A resolution from the Warren County Ministerial Association was read and Dr. T. E. Colley, pastor of the First Methodist church and long-time neighbor, pronounced the benediction.

Those who served as active bearers were Naldo Garber, Edmund Bimber, Mr. White, Dorr Taylor, Hans Walchli and Peter Yagge, with Dr. I. C. Hyer, Arthur Carmony, Robert Simpson and W. P. Kirkpatrick as honorary bearers.

Superintendent Galbraith was also in charge of the rites held in the First Methodist church in Jamestown, with prayer by Dr. H. H. Barr, of Warren, former district superintendent and conference classmate of Rev. Jones. Scripture by Rev. L. M. Barnard, superintendent of the Brookville District and formerly of Grace church, Warren, and Dr. Charles T. Greer, Meadville District superintendent and former pastor of Warren's First church.

The funeral address was delivered by Dr. J. H. Clemens, retired pastor of Warren's Grace church, and the benediction was pronounced by Rev. E. Roy Myers, of the First church of Jamestown.

Final rites at the graveside in Ashville cemetery were in charge of Dr. Galbraith and Rev. Myers, with the benediction by Rev. Palmer N. Taylor, pastor of the Ashville church.

Among the many who came from away to attend the services were the following: Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. William Powell, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Applequist, Jamestown, Mrs. Grace Baldwin, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Walters, Buffalo, N. Y.; Rev. and Mrs. H. Ray Harris, Miss Agnes Rupp, Corry; Mrs. Betty Jones and son, Wesley, Harborcreek; Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Jones, Carrie Donald Messenger, Mrs. Carrie Occoboc, Ashville; Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Sill, Beaver Dam; Mrs. Snyder, Kane; Mr. and Mrs. Leon Jones and two daughters, Meadville; Mr. and Mrs. Dora Jones, Pittsburgh.

National Forge To Receive Navy 'E' Nov. 22

and Joseph F. Guffey. The former has definitely accepted the invitation to attend and word is being awaited from Senator Guffey. Also scheduled to participate in the ceremonies are Burgess R. W. Steber, of Warren, and Burgess Warren Kay, of Youngsville, as well as plant officials. Music for the occasion will be provided by the Warren V. F. W. band.

Highlighting the ceremonies will be the presentation of the Navy "E" pennant to officials of the plant by Admiral Standley and the awarding of Navy "E" buttons to all employees of the company.

The ceremonies will be held at 2:30 o'clock on November 22 in the National Forge and Ordnance plant at Irvine with all employees in attendance. However, because of the fact that the plant now is engaged in national defense work and is under strict surveillance of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the general public will be unable to attend.

However, in order that the public may be able to hear the noted speakers on the program, the entire ceremonies will be broadcast over radio station WJTN at Jamestown, N. Y.

It was stated that the interest of patriotism and national defense, the radio time is being donated.

The program will be preceded by an inspection of the plant by the visiting officials.

The navy officials will arrive in Warren by automobile from Pittsburgh shortly after noon and will be guests of the National Forge officials at the Carver Hotel at 12:30 o'clock. From here the group will go to Irvine for the remainder of the program.

It was pointed out today that the Navy "E" is the highest mark of excellence which can be attained by naval personnel for efficiency in the performance of their work. Until the present emergency, it was only awarded to actual personnel of the navy and never to civilian organizations.

By special permission of President Roosevelt and Secretary Knox, the awards have been extended to manufacturers of naval equipment which meet the high standards set up by the navy department in Washington. The local plant is one of a comparatively small number to receive the award and is one of the smallest—most of them being in the class of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, Aluminum Corporation and similar large organizations.

A Navy "E" pennant will be flown at the plant after its presentation and each employee will be eligible to wear the special button given by the navy.

In addition to Admiral Standley, naval officials who will come here for the ceremonies include Captain Clinton E. Braine, Jr., Lt. Comm. L. Jacobs, Lt. Comm. W. W. Slocum, Lt. Comm. E. C. Rook, Lt. Comm. F. C. Giramer, Lt. Comm. R. G. Walling, Lt. S. Shaw, Lt. J. Harold Hentz, Ensign E. J. Curley, Ensign R. L. Simpson and W. A. Hunter, senior civilian inspector of armor and heavy forgings of the U. S. Navy.

Fire Department Has Two Calls During the Night and One Today

Members of the borough fire department kept late hours last night, with only twelve minutes' rest between two calls that took them out around midnight.

The first call came in at 11:24 and took the department to the home of Charles Saporito, 19 Hinkle street, where a fire in the attic and roof caused damage amounting to about $200. A defective chimney was blamed for the blaze.

Returning at 12:33, the equipment was called out again at 12:45 to go to the Segel junk yard at the former Warren Veneer and Panel plant at the foot of South South street, where a carload of junk cars caught fire in a shed. There was no damage.

A third call was received at 8:08 this morning, a partition fire at the C. W. Heald home at 7 Bradley street, with little damage.

Moscow had now definitely passed into Red army hands.

In the Crimea campaign, a bulletin from Adolf Hitler's field headquarters asserted that German troops were "in front of Kerch," gateway to the Caucasus oil fields, with the city and harbor under the fire of Nazi artillery.

Yesterday, the high command declared assault troops actually were storming the port.

Soviet reinforcements, some of them drawn from the Rostov-on-Don sector, were reported racing to defend the Caucasus coast against a German drive across the narrow Kerch strait from the Crimea.

Plane Carrying Envoys Is Still Missing In Iran

received up to nightfall no reports from either south Russian or north Iranian airfields along the route.

Officials cautioned against alarm, however.

A report yesterday that the plane had landed at Pahlevi, Iranian Caspian seaport, proved erroneous, the embassy said. A shuttle plane flying from the Caucasian port of Baku had been mistakenly identified as the plane carrying the ambassadors, officials explained.

However, communications with the interior of Russia are considerably delayed and a Moslem holiday today prevented a thorough check of northern Iran by native telegraph authorities. Therefore Russian and British sources said alarm over the lack of news was not justified.

The U. S. legation said that two telegrams had been received from Steinhardt. One, dated Nov. 7, said he would arrive in Teheran, Nov. 9, while the second, sent Nov. 11, said he would arrive yesterday.

(Officials in London pointed out that such trips are carried out in secrecy because of wartime precautions, and that the plane might have taken a different route not touching at Teheran at all.)

The army already has established an information center in Pittsburgh regarding captive mines, and observers have interpreted the move as a preparedness step in the event the army should be ordered to run them during any union strike.

James expressed the hope the conference would find some means of "ending the wave of strikes eating at the heart of rearmament."

President Suggests Arbitrator

and steel officials all had left the president's office at the same time, but that the steel delegates had remained behind in the office of Presidential Secretary E. M. Watson to confer among themselves.

William D. Hassett, acting press secretary, said he did not know whether there would be additional parleys with the chief executive or whether the White House would issue a statement.

The steel executives left the White House 50 minutes after the coal officials, likewise silent and likewise declaring firmly that "whatever is said must be said by the White House."

The UMW policy committee gave orders, in a resolution, to the three CIO officials, as they were leaving for the White House, to "continue their efforts to secure a settlement" in the controversy to conform to the provisions of the Appalachian agreement.

Under this agreement, all commercial soft coal mines have granted a union shop to the UMW. The Defense Mediation Board recently rejected the union's demand for a union shop in the captive mines.

At his press conference, presiding the White House coal meeting, the president handled gingerly questions about the threatened strike in the fuel mines, declining to be drawn into any discussion of labor legislation or the possibility of the government's taking over the mines.

The UMW policy committee resolution commended and approved the action of Murray, Kennedy and other CIO officials in resigning from the Mediation Board in protest against the board's decision in the mine case.

The policy committee agreed to return to UMW headquarters for a meeting tentatively set for 2:30 p. m., at which time Lewis said he would report the outcome of the White House conference.

Much Damage Is Reported From Coast Temblor

instruments for aircraft and other southern California defense industries were so badly damaged that Torrance firemen said it might be several days before work could be resumed.

American Legion members were called out to prevent the curious from venturing too close to damaged buildings.

Heavy fog badly hampered investigators and slowed traffic to a few miles an hour.

Men, women and children huddled in automobiles for warmth as they hesitated to return to their homes until they felt it would be safe. Another slight shock was felt in Torrance at 1:35 a. m.

The temblor was the third in Los Angeles county in five months and the worst since a 1933 quake killed 130 persons.

Also feeling the quake in various degrees were Beverly Hills, Hollywood, Pasadena, Glendale, Whittier, Inglewood, Maywood, Hawthorne, Redondo, Manhattan and Hermosa Beaches, Alhambra, Santa Monica, Compton and San Pedro.

These ships already are loaded and routed for England, it was said, and need only to change their registry in order for them to hoist the stars and stripes again.

Stockpiles of Food for Peace

Here is what the U. S. Department of Agriculture means when it urges farmers to help produce "stockpiles of food for use after the war." The upper picture shows barrels of dried milk, just as good a year from now as today. The lower picture shows a warehouse filled with huge drums of cheese, even better with aging. These farm products, plus condensed milk, dried milk, corn meal, and canned meat and vegetables, constitute the stockpiles of "food for peace," says Secretary Claude R. Wickard, will be needed by hungry Europe and "will exert the maximum influence at the peace conference table."

EAST ST. SCHOOL ENTERTAINMENT MUCH ENJOYED

American Education Week was observed at the East street school with a fine program and very large attendance. Carroll A. Fowler, of the music department of local schools, led the audience in singing "America", "Dixie" and "Swanee River".

A group of pupils from the high school a cappella choir, directed by Mr. Fowler, sang "Deep River", "Kye Song of St. Bridget", "The Handsome Soldier" and "Prayer" from Humperdinck's "Hansel and Gretel".

John G. Rossman, superintendent of schools, introduced Miss Strong, of Pennsylvania State College, who gave a very interesting talk on modern methods of reading.

Mr. Rossman then spoke on the general theme of National Education Week, "Building a Strong America".

After all had joined in singing a chorus of "Gou Ben", the guests were invited to visit the various school rooms for conferences with teachers and discussion of problems.

To conclude, a dainty buffet luncheon was served in the upper hall. Autumn colors were used on the beautifully appointed table, which was centered with yellow and bronze pompoms, ivory candles and silver and crystal service. Miss Glenda Gilmore, president of the Warren Borough Teachers' Association, and Miss Ida McKinney, principal of the McClintock building, presided.

Interesting Program Is Arranged For Annual Rotary-Farmer Dinner

An elaborate and interesting program has been arranged for the annual Rotary-Farmer dinner to be held next Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the North Warren Community House. Present indications are that at least 250 Rotarians and farmers from all parts of the county will be in attendance.

The object of this annual affair of years standing is to promote fellowship and understanding between the two groups. Large representations of Grange, 4-H Club and Future Farmers members, as well as many other farmer organizations are expected to attend. Rotarians from Youngstown and Sheffield have also been invited.

The dinner this year will be an innovation in that all food to be served will be produce from Warren county farms so far as possible. This has been arranged as an attempt to demonstrate the county's self-sufficiency and at the same time show the high quality of Warren county products.

The interesting program to be presented is in charge of a capable committee, of which C. F. H. Wuesthoff is chairman. The committee has been fortunate in securing Dusty Miller, of Wilmington, Ohio, to deliver the principal address. Musical portion of the program will be given by the well known Keystone Quartette of the Pennsylvania Railroad. Superintendent of Schools John G. Rossman will preside in the capacity of toastmaster.

Dusty Miller has been a newspaper publisher for twenty-five years and is a thoroughly experienced dinner speaker, having filled thousands of engagements and addressed a million people. His talks are marked with a clean humor and have created much favorable comment in the larger cities.

He is a rapid-fire speaker and puts his points over in such a glorious way that he has scored smashing triumphs wherever he has appeared. He has given as high as 161 talks to groups of the Columbia Gas Company and 53 to Frigidare Corporation meetings, as well as many other return engagements for large organizations.

Strickland Gillilan is the authority for the following praise-worthy comment about Miller: "If Dusty Miller were triplets, all three of him would be busy all the time! News of him spreads like scandal in political campaigns. He is speaking to more people and doing the best job of anybody I know." The Ohio State Journal has said to him, "In epigrams of wisdom, Dusty Miller is easily the Ben Franklin of Ohio."

The popularity of the Keystone Quartette of the Pennsylvania Railroad is attested by the fact that in a period of six months they sang before ninety-four audiences, totaling 42,375 people throughout New England and Middle Atlantic states. Members of the quartette are all on active duty with the railroad in the general offices in Philadelphia. G. C. Hartel, first tenor and manager of the group, is in the personnel department; J. C. Mainwaring, second tenor and A. E. Rodig, first bass, are with the car service department and W. G. Harshaw, second bass, is in the accounting department.

In addition to their many public appearances they have given programs which have been transmitted over more than sixty different radio stations and were the first singing group to broadcast over a television station.

New Pastor of St. Joseph's Arrives Today

The Rev. Father William J. Moore, pictured above at the organ, arrived in Warren today to take charge of St. Joseph's Roman Catholic parish here, assuming the pastorate to which he was appointed ten days ago by the Most Rev. John Mark Gannon, bishop of the Erie diocese.

Father Moore is one of the most accomplished musicians in the Erie diocese and he is much in demand as a concert organist. At Titusville, where he was pastor of St. Walburga's church before being appointed to the local parish, Father Moore was director of the Elks' chorus.

Members of St. Joseph's parish will welcome Father Moore at a reception to be held in St. Joseph's school hall on Sunday evening, November 23rd, it was announced today. Representatives of the various organizations of the parish will participate in the program.

The following account of a farewell for Father Moore at Titusville last evening is taken from the Titusville Herald:

Nearly 200 parishioners, friends and admirers of Father William J. Moore gathered last night in the Rainbow Room of the Titusville Elks club to hear clergymen and laymen of all faiths attest to the friendship and admiration shared by all in this community for the retiring priest of St. Walburga's Catholic church.

The testimonial for Father Moore, who on November 11 took up his new duties as the pastor of St. Joseph's church in Warren, was planned by members of the St. Walburga's parish. The high esteem in which they hold the man who has been their priest for the past eight years was evidenced by a purse of $450, presented to the popular churchman as a farewell gift by admirers both in and out of the parish.

Music by the Elks Choir, founded and directed by Father Moore, three solos by Mrs. Lee Hess Barnes, and short talks by representatives of Catholic, Protestant and Jewish churches were featured on the program. Participants stood on a raised platform at one end of the room. A flower-decked altar and a profusion of ferns and palms provided an attractive setting for the ceremony.

John E. Sallaway presided, and the presentation of the farewell gift was made by Frank C. Hesck, chairman of the program. Both men are members of the St. Walburga's parish. Speakers were Father Michael E. Dailey, former assistant pastor at St. Titus' church of Titusville and now rector of Holy Redeemer church of Warren; Father P. J. McLaughlin, pastor of St. Venantius church of Rouseville; Rev. Albert Broadhurst, rector of St. James' Memorial church of Titusville; Rev. A. O. Caldwell, D. D., pastor of the First Presbyterian church here, and Lessor E. Levy, representing B'Nai Gemuth Chessed synagogue.

The keynote for the meeting was set by Mr. Sallaway, who told the assemblage that it was with mixed emotions that the group was gathered to bid farewell to Father Moore, a man whom he described as being "a kind friend, a pious priest, a paternal pastor and a civic citizen." The toastmaster said he preferred to think of the priest's departure not as the loss, but as the transfer of a friend.

Is it Love? by MARGARETTA BRUCKER

Chapter 26
Johnny Returns

GINNY opened her eyes wide, then smiled. "Not entirely. Although it's no more to be condemned than marrying for a fine plantation home."

"So that's what people are saying?"

GINNY shrugged. "Why should you care? Toby says that your Johnny's a swell person and I've made up my mind that Toby's a better judge of character than I am. I don't see why he picked me—but then," Ginny decided shrewdly, "Toby likes nice people and I do have family."

"You're leaving one important thing out of this arrangement, aren't you?" asked Sue Ellen quietly.

"You mean love?" Ginny leaned over and patted the hand which wore Johnny's diamond. "What about you? You told me over and over that you couldn't stand Johnny Harris, but you married him when he asked you. I knew that he'd bought Belle Acres the day we went out there and the sign was down in front of the house, remember? I knew who had started to tear down those tumbledown stables. I knew long ago that he loved you. I'd rather marry a man who loved me too much than to have too much loving on my side. I'll make Toby happy—see if I don't. And you married a man you weren't in love with. Do you know, Sue, that's why I had the courage to marry Toby."

She felt like a cheat. Suppose Ginny had made a mistake and she was responsible. Ginny was wrong; she did love the man she married. It might be days—possibly months—until Johnny would know; he would guess, he must see. But Ginny—could she love plain, clumsy, honest, Toby enough to be happy with him?

Ginny ran on and on and then said curiously: "You haven't heard a word. Honey, are you still upset about Riv and Deedora?"

"Why should I be?"

Ginny stated thoughtfully at the subject. "It must be odd for you to be married to a Yankee."

"A Yankee is no different from any other man."

Ginny pondered this. "Well, a northern girl is certainly no different from one of us. Look at Deedora Waller. She went off the deep end about Riv Moore and now she's in a jam."

"You know?"

"Everyone in Tyler Springs knows. I wonder she came back here. Do you know what I think?"

Ginny rushed on to answer her own question. "I think she's sentimental."

"Deedora?"

Ginny nodded. "All that brusque manner is so much camouflage and underneath she fell for Riv because she's much more romantic than you or me, who have married for a plantation and a groove."

"Ginny?"

"It's the truth. Deedora came down here with one idea: to marry a handsome southern gentleman to manage the estate her father bought for her. She had a romantic picture of southern life. Stateside, home with white columns and magnolias. Riv fitted into the picture, and being engaged to another girl made him more fascinating and desirable. She saw Riv as another Rhett Butler, just as these Camp Shelby soldiers see a Scarlett O'Hara in every pretty girl. Underneath the skin, a Yankee is twice as susceptible as a southerner."

"Secret Out"

The conversation might have gone on and on, for Ginny loved to talk and was just warming to her subject, but Aunt Car appeared and settled herself at the window, and with a warning glance, Sue Ellen hinted that they had better change the conversation.

They talked about the newly formed Red Cross unit and whether or not the carpet should be cleaned at the Episcopal Church, and finally Ginny cleared her throat and said to Sue Ellen, who had just moved toward the street door:

"How you mind runs to Deedora Waller. She made plenty of trouble for you."

"If I could do anything to help her..."

Ginny said: "Ha! Help her? Better not offer her any pity, she doesn't hesitate to tell everyone how much she dislikes you."

Sue Ellen stood and watched through the window as Ginny paddled off in the rain, umbrella bobbing, rubbers sloshing, her red raincoat the one bright spot in the sullen sodden landscape.

When she went back to the library, Aunt Car said: "What's Ginny Fairchild hatching now?"

"Why?"

"Because mischief is written all over her face."

Before she remembered her promise, Sue Ellen said: "She's marrying Toby Tyler tomorrow."

"The Lord bless us and save us," Aunt Car's tapestry fell to her lap. "What's the South coming to, when a Fairchild marries a common crossroads grocer?"

"Valking up," said Sue Ellen briefly. "This generation of southerners is changing its sense of values. We get no satisfaction out of clinging to outmoded ideas which were all right for our great-grandfathers. We're emancipated." She smiled, then sobbed, and added earnestly: "I promised Ginny not to tell her plans. Don't say anything to any one about it, will you?"

Aunt Car promised. "Ginny know anything else?"

Sue Ellen came across the room and bent and kissed her. "The whole town thinks I married Johnny to get possession of Belle Acres."

"And does that worry you?"

"It isn't true," said Sue Ellen softly. "You know that."

Aunt Car's slender hand caught Sue Ellen's fingers and held them closely. "When are you going to let your husband know that you love him?" she asked, gently.

"When I'm sure that he loves me," was Sue Ellen's answer.

The rain continued throughout the day. About two in the afternoon, Johnny called from Camp Shelby. "I may have to go away for a month," he told Sue Ellen. "I'm coming over this afternoon to wind up the signing of the papers. I want everything to be settled and Belle Acres in my name before I leave. These are a hard time." His tone was troubled.

"There's no danger that you won't come back?"

"Try to keep me away," said Johnny, and something in his voice made her heartbeat quicker.

He would be over about the time he must have been back after dinner. Sue Ellen left the telephone to announce that she would be a guest for dinner, a very important guest, she thought.

Aunt Jennie, whom she found ambling about the low-ceilinged kitchen. "My husband is coming. I want to have everything just right."

"Funny kind of a husband," muttered Aunt Jennie, who had known Sue Ellen from the day she took her first step and hesitated to express her opinion on anything which concerned her husband's head—and he's a sheath. Whoever heard of a nonsense."

"That's the modern way," Sue Ellen teased her.

Aunt Jennie tossed her kind head. "That's what a grand old time says. I ain't no account gran'mamma rolled her eyes. 'I ain't never hear of a husband' that don't make love to his wife. It's a decent—it ain't—"

"Maybe things will be different soon," said Sue Ellen demurely. "You must remember that husband is a soldier."

Aunt Jennie grumbled. "Sisters! What we fightin' foah it time?"

Unasked Guest

AUNT PLEAS' announcement wanted to see her annoyed Ellen, upset her and made slightly uneasy. The talk with Riv earlier in the week who have convinced him that their relations were ended. She had him flatly that she did not want to see him. Now, he had come again.

"He looks terrible. I think he's been drinking. If you do care to see him, I'll tell you're out or resting. I'll miss some excuse."

"Then he may rush off and do something rash and or a lot of gossip." Sue Ellen already slipping out of her hood coat and into a dark wool dress. "Tell him I'll be down in a minute and make some excuse to interrupt us if you hear that it's becoming loud and unmanageable."

"I don't think you should tell him," Aunt Pleas insisted. "She did not tell her aunt. She was afraid not to see. Always high-tempered and restless, he might rush off and express his opinion about Riv and start a flood of gossip. Once and for Riv must understand that should go about his own business and leave her alone."

When she came downstair she found him pacing the starting up the staircase and ring to meet her before ever reached the last step. He caught her arm and drew her quickly into the front parlor.

He arose, strode back and a minute, his breath coming stormily, his black eyes fast.

"So you married the man could give you Belle Acres. I've just come from bank and learned that you have the place for your while this Yankee soldier back east to show off his form. What kind of marriage that?"

"Is that your business, Riv? Yes, it is. You run of marry me and then turn to Tyler Springs married to some else and the whole town is going why and imagining all of things."

Trucks Pay Fourth Of Turnpike Tolls

Trucks, comprising less than 10 per cent of the total number of vehicles which used the Pennsylvania Turnpike during the first year of its operation, paid 25 per cent of the tolls.

This was revealed today by the Pennsylvania Motor Truck Association on the basis of statistics compiled by the Turnpike Commission.

A total of 2,473,817 motor vehicles traveled the "dream road" from October 1, 1940 to September 30, 1941, paying tolls aggregating $2,729,526.46. This included 245,576 trucks, which paid tolls amounting to $682,107.10. Eighty-seven per cent of the tolls paid by trucks were paid by tractor semi-trailer units carrying 30,000 to 35,000 pounds, 101,976 of these vehicles using the Turnpike during the year.

rounding operations of the Donovan office, certain developments of recent days reveal how effective counter-propaganda can be. There was the incident of the new German map for redrawing South America according to Nazi notions. President Roosevelt mentioned it in a speech and it set the Germans to howling abusive denials. Assistant Secretary of State Breckinridge Long made a speech directed at Italy, in which he said Italian troops sent to aid Germany were but hostages to keep the Italians at home in servitude to the Nazis. That one caught both the Germans and Italians off guard.

There are other incidents of the same kind which reveal how this battle of words is to be fought. But most of them probably won't be told about until the war is over if then.

Barker Chooses Wildcats Over Irish on Saturday Program

Stands By Stanford, Duke And Minnesota; Pittsburgh Gets Nod Over Cornhuskers

New York Nov. 14.—(P)—The week's football slate after last week's debacle we do mean guess.

Northwestern-Notre Dame. Two good teams meet in the big game of the schedule. The Irish are tough and their offense so long as Angelo Bertelli is tossing that ball is difficult to halt. Northwestern can counter with another sophomore sensation Otto Graham but the Wildcats have been unlucky in their major tests this year. Still, maybe their luck will change. A flur on Northwestern.

Stanford-Washington State. Thanks to Bill Sewell Washington State has been a giant-killer on occasion this season. Having said that this corner stubbornly casts the customary vote for Stanford.

Duke-North Carolina. This thing almost never comes out as expected. But how are you going to pick against the undefeated Blue Devils in this one? Duke.

Iowa-Minnesota. The Gophers crippled as they are, figure to have no walkover against Iowa but the ballot must be cast for Minnesota.

Missouri-Oklahoma. As tough a choice as any on the schedule out of the bet Missouri.

Rice-Texas A and M. Prepared for anything Texas A and M Texas-Texas Christian. Expecting the Longhorns to return to form, Texas.

Columbia-Michigan. Doubting the Lions have enough depth to meet this foe on even terms Michigan.

Boston College-Tennessee. The Eagles have been impressive in recent weeks. Boston College but not by much.

Duquesne-Mississippi State. Both unbeaten although State has been tied. That long trip back from the west coast won't help Duquesne. In a dense fog Duquesne.

New York University-Tulane. Alabama-Georgia Tech. It's a question if Alabama can stay up on the same level it reached last

PATTERSON CAGE CREW ORGANIZED FOR NEW SEASON

Manager Louis Casser Jr. announced today the formation of the Warren Pattersons a team which probably will be Warren's outstanding basketball quarter and presented the present roster which includes all boys now working out at the Y. M. C. A., planning to win a berth on the club.

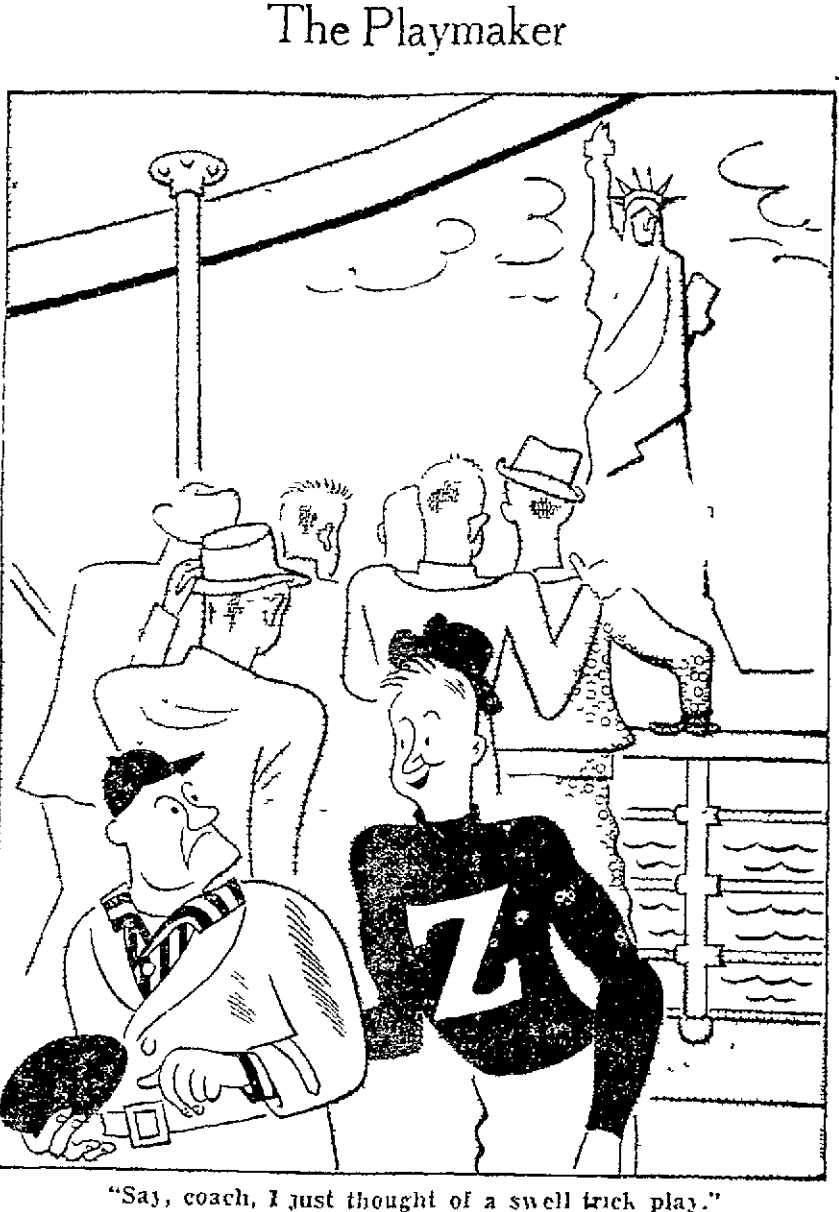

With a mixture of former Penn Mercant Pattersons of 1940-41 National Forge and high school stars of last year in the lineup the newly organized outfit promises to give local court fans plenty in the way of semi-pro basketball.

It was stated that the team will be entered in the Class A league at the Y, which incidentally plans to be bigger and better than it has been in five years come time for the basketball season.

On the Patterson team are Dick Tucker, Ken Christiansen, Bud Elquist, Johnny Pick, Eddie Burns, Ronald Wood and Chuck Clavson. Burns is a former NFO player, while Wood was in the lineup of the Youngsville High school Eagles last winter and is truly a fine courtster. Clavson is a product of Joe Massa's out of Kinzua, and may show local followers plenty of the sport before the season is over next spring.

Casser stated that the team will also play teams out of town including the St. Mary's Boys Club, Kankakee and the Arlington Hotel team out of Conry.

He also requested that it be announced that the Pattersons will book any other Class A teams in this area, and will be ready to open the season soon. Teams interested in a game with the Pattersons are asked to contact Casser at 235 Pennsylvania avenue west either by mail or personally.

"Say, coach, I just thought of a swell trick play."

DRAGONS TO BE TREATED TO THIEL-GROVE CITY GAME SATURDAY, VOTE AGAINST NIGHT FOOTBALL FOR NEXT FALL MAY RUIN SCHOOL GRID PROGRAM

The high school football Dragons are treated annually to what the local school athletic officials deem one of the best college grid treats of the season which is scheduled after the close of the Blue and White season, and this year the local schoolboys will get an opportunity to see Thiel's strong undefeated and united eleven go against Grove City Saturday at Grove City. Twenty-one varsity squad members will make the trip, an anti-climax to their recently closed campaign. Usually the team goes to see a game between larger colleges but it has been proven to be a fact that the contests are often no better than smaller schools can produce, and the expense involved is much greater. So, to be able to boast an absolutely spotless record this year, the Dragons are expected to see one of the finest college teams it has ever been the pleasure of the athletic association to treat them to. Due to the generosity of Director of Athletics and Coach J. B. Leidy, we have been invited to go along with the team Saturday, and accept the invitation heartily for seeing Thiel this fall is an opportunity any football-minded person "could be foolish to pass up."

While the school board may not realize it here's what the Warren football Dragons face next year should the education daddies vote against night football again come their special meeting November 17. They may say, "I'm looking for new opponents to replace Bradford and Oil City, and even possibly Jamestown, though the Jimmies won't go off the local school unless absolutely necessary. However, things are growing more and more to a point where Warren is being pressed and demanded to play night ball at least away from home, if they want to remain in the same class with the faster moving schools in this ball is the only thing for the Bulldogs, and any opponents they book must agree to nocturnal tiffs when at the Crawford county city. Bucking Allegheny College, or rather trying not to make them dates conflict, is a problem that the Dragons can solve only with night ball. Even in the rain the averaged nearly 2,000 paid customers per game in the evenings this year, but the Dragon game netted only about 700. Oil City too is fast being sold upon the idea of the game under lights, where even the hapless Oilers could make money. And Bradford cheers the same band plays every game except their battle with Olean the school board votes against the Dragons playing at night, there'll be a powerful petition signed in short order, with a vast number of football fans signing who still have an interest in bettering local high school sports.

Joe Titto of Youngsville writes us to state he disagrees with our assertion that raising the age limit in schools to 20 for athletes would benefit smaller schools more than larger ones. Titto believes it would work in reverse because taking Warren for example an institution with the largest athletic group would find more boys over 18 who could play if the 20-years-of-age ruling is put back in practice. Possibly so, Joe, but what we were trying to bring out is that while Youngsville has no or both may in future years, and the added year of eligibility may mean the difference of several victories in any sport could the respective school use some steps regardless of its size. Of course, the rule would aid larger schools it would aid all schools, but our point point is that no boy is too "old" to be allowed to participate in high school athletics. As this corner interprets your letter Joe you have no grudge against the possible change again, however, and if we have read correctly we've found another to claim for our side. Thanks for writing. Hope that the Dragons and Eagles can get together on the court this season.

A Boy, a Parade, a Ball Player

Johnny Adams, 14-year-old Detroit school boy, got the feel of things and a thrill before he tried on Sgt. Hank Greenberg's helmet when the former baseball star stopped during Detroit's Armistice Day parade.

MISS. STATE AND DUQUESNE MEET AT PITTSBURGH

Pittsburgh, Nov. 14.—(P)—The Duquesne Dukes, with Buff Donelli officially back as head coach and with three prizes at stake in a battle between two unbeaten elevens at Forbes Field, will make an all-out drive for victory over Mississippi State tomorrow.

A triumph over the Southerners, about equal to the Dukes in strength and as well known for their wizardry in ball-handling would earn Duquesne the eastern championship since it is the only major undefeated and untied team in the east. It also would give Duquesne the first perfect football season in its history, and would undoubtedly bring it an invitation to a post-season bowl game.

Lesnevich in Title Scrap This Evening

New York, Nov. 14.—(P)—Gus Lesnevich of Clifside, N. J., and Tami Mauriello of the Bronx swap punches for the second time in three months tonight in a battle for the World's Light Heavyweight crown which Lesnevich wears with the approval of both the N. B. A. and New York state.

The scrap, scheduled for 15 rounds, is expected to attract some 12,000 customers to Madison Square Garden.

Lesnevich, 126 was recognized as the light heavyweight ruler by the National Boxing Association when he tied into Mauriello last August. That fight drew the blessing of New York's State Athletic Commission, since Mauriello was regarded as the outstanding challenger after Billy Conn stepped down from the 175-pound throne.

The New Jersey slugger came up with a decision so close that any at the ringside disagreed.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

BY HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Nov. 14.—(P)—The Special News Service—Joe Louis and a free promoting job aren't all Mike Jacobs is lending to the navy. He's been sending fighters and equipment over to Brooklyn to put on shows aboard a battleship for the entertainment of gobs who can't get shore leave. Frank Frisch will manage the first winter party because he hasn't fully recovered from his tonsil operation. Apparently he figures there's no use going if he can't take his voice along. George Timpon of the Christian Science Monitor, who has covered some 35 sports in New York for about the same number of years, is on his way to California and will miss his first hockey season since the game moved into the Garden.

High school game between the Shelby and Mansfield teams in Ohio has been set ahead because the hunting season opens Saturday. Maybe there's no closed season on referees.

Today's Guest Star

Fred Russell Nashville Banner: "There are football wolves and wolves, and I have seen and talked to some with fearsome fangs but the No. 1 wolf of all time is the one I met over the week-end. Speaking of his pet aversion among the coaches, he said: 'I wanna tell you the truth—if that guy had the entire German army and the whole British navy, he couldn't capture Cuba.'"

Reverting to old grad status this Dept. picks Princeton to beat Yale because our bums are better than their bums. There's no other game worth talking about this week.

One-Minute Sports Page

Duquesne's footballers will be guests of honor at the Dapper Dan Club banquet, November 30, even if they should be knocked off before then. Hank Greenberg is keeping himself fit in the army by boxing daily with Norman Hughes, former Illinois amateur mitt-swinger, and he's keeping himself smart by managing Hughes in camp bouts. Headline "Wrestlers to be paid off in defense stamps." Wonder if they had to strike to get that raise. Notre Dame line men say Georgia Tech's line is the toughest they have faced all season. Candidate for the Pacific Coast League presidency is Sid Cherniss, who was bat boy for the Los Angeles Angels back in 1913. When Lew Jenkins turned up with a black eye the other day, he explained he got it playing football with the Pro Giants during their morning practice. Dizzy Dean, visiting Chicago on radio business, says he's through with baseball for good. From now on, he's only a broadcaster.

Midnight Sailing

The Bradley Braves who play nine teams from nine states this season, take their own mattresses along when they travel. To save a little dough, they make their own sleeping quarters on trains by putting the mattresses across the seats of the coaches and climb into the hay under their own blankets. Maybe that's what has made them tough enough to win seven games so far.

speeches in the diet were set for later dates, apparently to give more time for Kurosu to report.

Apparently to give the govern-

especially the United States' role therein, the schedule for the spe-

setting the main speeches later.

Washington, Nov. 14.—(P)—
President Roosevelt announced today the United States government had decided to withdraw American marines from Shanghai, Tientsin
and Peking, China.

That will take all the American marines out of China, the chief executive told a press conference.
About 730 of them have been stationed in the three cities. The president would not discuss capital speculation about the withdrawal of these troops being linked with efforts to obtain a better understanding between this country and Japan.

He said he had no definite plans
yet to see Japan's special envoy, Saburo Kurosu, who is flying to the United States to discuss the Far Eastern situation.

Asked whether he thought war
could be avoided in the Pacific,
Mr. Roosevelt said he certainly hoped so.

OBITUARY

SEVERIN JOHNSON
Severin Johnson, resident of Sheffield for many years, passed away at his home, 15 Willow street, on Thursday afternoon. He had been in ill health for some time, but his condition did not become serious until a few days ago.
A retired gardener, he was born March 30 1856, in Godstad, Sweden and came to this country
and to Sheffield 51 years ago on May 10. He was a member of the Bethany Lutheran church.

His wife and a son, the latter killed in the first World War, preceded him in death. Surviving are two children, Mrs. Henry Erickson and Carl Elmer Johnson; also eleven grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Removal has been made to the Borden Funeral Home, where friends may call and from where services will be held at 2:30 o'clock
Sunday afternoon, Rev. Carl Gron-quist will officiate and interment will be made in the Sheffield cemtery.

Bather Park Catchpole, wife of William Catchpole, 21 Fourteenth

denly last evening at her home,
aged 54 years. The daughter of Henry Park, former sheriff of Warren county, she was born here May 15, 1887, and had resided in Jamestown for the past 27 years.

Besides her husband, William H.
Catchpole, she leaves a son, W.
Park, of Jamestown, three brothers, Chester C. and Clyde J. Park, of Warren, and Myron H. Park, of Baltimore, Md.; one nephew, Jack
Park, Warren; two nieces, Cynthia
Park, Warren, and Zoanne Park, Baltimore.

Henderson & Lincoln chapel in Jamestown. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

Children's Division to be a Feature of Christmas Parade

(From Page One)
acceptances have been received from a large marching delegation of firemen from Ridgway and the Fireworks fire department. Negotiations are being made to have the Kane fire department enter a delegation also.

Aides for the various divisions
will be appointed by the local post
of the American Legion.

In that this is planned as a community celebration all organizations and business houses are asked to cooperate by entering their marching units or floats.
Because of the nature of the celebration no prizes will be offered for floats, it has been stated.

The Citizens' Committee will meet Monday evening to further plans for the parade, which will no doubt be the most colorful and largest of its type ever held in the borough. Efforts are being made to secure entertainment for next Monday's meeting and all members of the committee are asked to be present. Refreshments will be served.

AFTER BID AND RAISE
IN NO-TRUMP, HERE'S
NEW GAME SYSTEM

BY WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority

A bidding variation now used by The Four Aces which does not appear in their book is one in which the original bid is one no
trump and partner responds with two no trump.

With the South cards in the hand shown today, most players
would just go on to three no trump. West would lead a spade and South would be able to make only seven tricks unless he developed the hearts. But a heart lead would let the opponents in to run the rest of the spades, defeating the contract.

To avoid going down at three no
trump when game can be made
at a major suit, The Four Aces
use a new convention to find out
the major suit. South's bid of three clubs does not show a club suit, but does announce that he has a four-card major suit, and ask North to bid a four-card major if he has one.

North obeys by bidding three hearts, and the game in hearts is thus reached. North has no trouble making the contract, losing
only two spades and the ace of hearts.

If North had no four-card major suit he would bid three no trump. If he had four spades, he would bid three spades, and South
would then bid three no trump.
And if North had four cards in each major, he would bid three diamonds. That bid would mean nothing so far as diamonds are concerned, but would ask South
to bid his major suit.

FOUR ACES USE NO SLAM
CONVENTIONS, SHOW ACES,
VOIDS

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority

From time to time I like to present the various slam conventions
to you, although I seldom employ a slam convention myself. I have always felt that conventions
were a substitute for thinking
and that straight-forward bidding gets best results. The Four Aces
do not employ any slam convention, but they do have different ideas for showing aces and void
suits.

For example, South's bid of four clubs is not intended so much to show his suit as to show control
of clubs and to display interest in a slam. Naturally South intends to bid at least six hearts, whatever North does. But if North has the ace of spades, South can bid a grand slam if North has
the ace of diamonds and small

YOUNGSVILLE PREPARING FOR MUSIC FESTIVAL

The Youngsville High School's music department is hard at work completing plans for the entertaining of its many Pennsylvania State Music Association choral festival guests next weekend.

Arrangements have been completed for use of the Youngsville skating rink, a nine-reel movie starring Mickey Rooney, and a recreational social period in the parlors of the National Forge clubhouse at Irvine.

To date approximately 120 applications have been accepted for the two-day festival, scheduled in the nearby community on Friday and Saturday, November 21-22.

These selected singers will represent 25 leading schools of northern Pennsylvania, registering on Friday and spending two days at intensive rehearsal in preparation for their concert on Saturday evening in the school gymnasium. The time set is eight o'clock and the public is invited.

Directing the rehearsals and concert will be Prof. Ralph Appelman, of the Westminster College Conservatory of Music.

Visiting Nurse Is Kept Busy During Month of October

New and old cases were nearly balanced in the work of the Warren Visiting Nursing Association for the month of October, according to the report of the nurse just submitted for publication.

There were 15 new cases and 20 carried over from the previous month, with chronic medical heading the list at 20 and acute medical at half that number. Other cases, one each, were communicable, tuberculosis, maternity, new born and light.

The nurse made a total of 122 visits, one in a new born case, 11 for social service and welfare and 110 for nursing purposes. Besides giving 10 light treatments, she had 42 office and telephone calls.

There were 38 children handled at the child health clinics in the month, the nurse assisting at two of these and attending one healing art meeting. There were seven new babies at the clinic and three new ones of pre-school age. To these were added 13 babies returning and 6 of the older group. Seven child welfare home visits were included in the clinic work.

The association is very appreciative of old linen and a gift of $35, also for two dozen diapers.

COLE HILL

Cole Hill, Nov. 10—Miss Helen Eastman attended a Senior speech class party of the Youngsville high school of which she is a member, held at the clubhouse at Irvine, Friday evening, November 7th.

A party was held Saturday evening, November 8th at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred McChesney on Ross Hill, in honor of their son, Arthur McChesney, who has been home on a furlough the past week, from Fort Knox, Kentucky, where he is stationed. A bountiful supper was served to about thirty guests, among whom were his brother, Warren McChesney who is working at Washington, Pa. and his uncle George Martin of Russell.

Postmaster Harold McConnell of Torpedo was at Pittsburgh several days last week on business.

Frank Martin, Dan Mourer Jr., H. C. Wesley and Archie Jackson of Youngsville, were at Syracuse, N. Y. Thursday and Friday to attend a meeting of the Grange League Federation of which they are members.

Miss Ula McChesney, who is working in Titusville was a guest at the Eastman home here Thursday evening.

We had our first snow here Friday. The flakes of snow melted however as soon as they touched the ground.

A hard thunder and lightning storm visited this place Thursday evening. The lightning was very sharp, but no damage has been reported.

William F. Smith of Pittsfield was here Monday on business. Miss Nellie Wentworth was a Warren visitor Tuesday. She also visited at the home of her brother Willis Wentworth and family at Pittsfield.

The stone road that was built here three years ago, has never been finished. The stones were hauled into the road and pounded up and covered with sand and gravel, but the black top was never put on.

The road builders said at that time that the black top would be put on later, but it has been three years since then and it hasn't been done.

If the road is left much longer it will be like the old stage road here when the dirt wore off and left the sharp stones to cut the tires on the automobiles.

Mrs. Alta Hadlock, widow of George Hadlock, Sr., was taken seriously ill Sunday morning at her home on the Garland Torpedo road, where she lives with her son Henry Hadlock.

Our new president Judge of the 5th Judicial district of Warren and Forest counties, Allison L. Wade, is the son of Douglas Wade who lived here with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Wade, sixty-two years ago, on the farm now owned by Frank Camp.

The Wade family bought the farm, now known as Cole Hill, one of the earliest settlers of Cole Hill.

Miss Margaret Dyer, the Cole Hill school teacher, spent the week end at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dyer at Youngsville.

Frank Camp returned home Sunday evening from his visit with his son Wilbur Camp and family at Sherman, N. Y.
